INFORMAL APPLICATION PROCESS

WHEN MIGHT AN INFORMAL APPLICATION BE CONSIDERED?

- Concerns related to carrier capacity (i.e., reinsurance required due to face amount)
- Larger face amount (Premium threshold: $25,000+) and impaired risk and multiple carriers offer the desired product
- The client is ready to proceed with a formal application within the next 2-3 months

STEP-BY-STEP GUIDE

Discuss the prospective case with your regional consultant to develop the case design

Confirm client's desire to proceed

Complete the informal application including The Cason Group HIPAA form.

Submit the application packet and illustration to lifenewbusiness@thecasongroup.com. Any additional information you feel is important to the case can be submitted as a cover letter as well.

Your case manager will confirm when the case is set up and ask for any initial details needed from you and your client if applicable.

If you are ordering the exam, please provide all exam documents including the lab slip once received. Otherwise, your case manager will order the exam if one is being completed. It can also expedite the process if your client provides the lab results available on the exam company website.  Please remember to advise your client to fast prior to the lab draw.

Our underwriting team will review the application and determine if any additional information is needed and where to request medical records.

- Additional information regarding potential underwriting risks may be requested during the underwriting review
- Our team typically orders the records unless otherwise specified
- Some medical facilities require special authorizations in addition to our HIPAA form
- Receiving medical records on average can take between 1-4 weeks once all required authorizations are received (subject to facility processing times).

Your case manager will provide weekly updates on the status of the case.

Once records are received, the underwriting team will review them and develop a medical summary and advise of potential underwriting outcomes.

The full file including the cover letter, HIPAA form, application, exam documents (if completed), lab results (if provided), medical records and avocation details will be submitted to the carriers determined to be the best fit related to case design and anticipated underwriting outcomes.

Carriers typically take 5-10 business days to review the file; however, the turn around time is subject to their current processing times.

Once offers are received, you will receive a summary with the tentative offers and the information still needed by the carriers if the offers are subject to additional information.

Thereafter, a formal application needs to be submitted within 30-60 days depending on the carrier to prevent the tentative offer from expiring.

Please note, these are still tentative offers which can change based on a number of factors including but not limited to: carriers' internal checks, doctor visits between the time of the tentative offer and when the application is submitted/underwritten formally, exam/lab results (if not completed at the time of the informal), change in health status, or changes in client responses from the informal application to formal application. Preferred rate classes assume that the client will otherwise qualify upon formal underwriting review.
